Time flies by when we're alone
I'm sure you know, there's no R U in red
No use in arguing, anymore

Skin cracks and our flesh will sag down to the floor, don't you know
I'll still fuck your brains out til your hairs gray and mine falls to the ground

Bury me with all your words, bite my tongue until it hurts
Breath you in with my last breath
Your memories of blissful death
Angel wings will carry me, wait for you eternally Wrote this song to carry on the legacy of our love

False teeth and brittling bones Won't age our love, there's no R U in red
No use in arguing, anymore

Love you til the day I die (?) Don't you know I'll still fuck your brains out til your hairs gray and mine
falls to the ground

Bury me with all your words, bite my tongue until it
hurts
Breath you in with my last breath
Your memories of blissful death
Angel wings will carry me, wait for you eternally

The greatest love affair in the world is when you get a woman,
She fucking loves you, and I don't know what the sound is
But you're still stupid in love with her, she dies, love never fades

Here's a toast to the memories
Write em down in the songs we sing Face to face with a flatline screen
Don't worry I'll be in you're dreams
