We walk around, we wander free we have the choice to create our destiny you have the hand which holds the key i have the heart who'll take the next beat

Follow the light that will guide us over its all or none
taking as risk never missing the point now you live only once

Carry on carry the light that you're on
carry on
riding the dream that you want and this rides taking off

Forget the past they said to me you have the strength to lye or let it be im on the run to take a chance holding for the one to make this slow dance fighting the fight that will take us over its all or none

im on the ride of my life so hold on
you live only once

carry on

carry on
and this rides taking off
