Time to hit the road
As every star above my head explodes
Raining down on desert dust
It's hard to call your name
When every time I do, I see your face
A serenade for haunted love

Oh linear, linear
Guess I never saw the signs
We live in troubled times
I'm living in a linear
I never read between the lines
We live in troubled times
We live in troubled times

Drowning in the crowd
Be careful not to think too much, too loud
Be careful what you wish for
I can't stop these crying eyes
Maybe it's the thinking mind that lies
And tells us that it's over
Over

Oh linear, linear
Guess I never saw the signs
We live in troubled times
I'm living in a linear
I never read between the lines
We live in troubled times
We live in troubled times

Linear, linear, linear lines

Oh linear, linear
Guess I never saw the signs
We live in troubled times
I'm living in a linear
I never read between the lines
We live in troubled times
We live in troubled times
We live in troubled times
It's over

It's over
It's over
It's over
