Sick of saying remember when Done wondering what happened
Tired of thinking I was what went wrong
I'm just ready to move on

But there are those memories stuck on repeat
Every time I close my eyes and just can't sleep
I hear your voice in the air in every song
Its 4 am and I finally broke down

And oh! ohhh
How are you so strong?

I'm searching for the light but I'm blinded by the scars.
Like reaching for the sky with an anchor on your heart
The noise fading faster the more I chase for sound Maybe I'm meant to be alone with my two feet on the ground

It wasn't the nights you stayed
It was the night you left
Stuck in my head
Just erasing all the rest
Shattering promises that you made to me
When we let it down and talked about everything
I used to think that we could always make this last
But you saw something then left me in the past

And oh! ohhh
How are you so strong?
Now that you're alone
After so long

I'm searching for the light but I'm blinded by
the scars
Like reaching for the sky with an anchor on your heart
The noise fading faster the more I chase for sound
Maybe I'm meant to be alone with my two feet on
the ground

I always swore
Iâ€™d never again
But my heart wonâ€™t let me win
No it wonâ€™t, no it wonâ€™t let me win

Iâ€™m searching for the light but Iâ€™m blinded by
the scars
Like reaching for the light with an anchor on your heart
The noise is fading faster the more I chase for sound
Maybe Iâ€™m meant to be alone

Iâ€™m searching for the light Iâ€™m blinded by the scars
Like reaching for the sky with an anchor on your heart
The noise is fading faster the more I chase for sound Maybe Iâ€™m meant to be alone with my two feet on the ground

I always swore
Iâ€™d never again
But my heart wonâ€™t let me win
No it wonâ€™t, no it wonâ€™t let me win

(Iâ€™m searching for the light but Iâ€™m blinded by
the scars)
(Like reaching for the sky with an anchor on your heart)
(The noise is fading faster the more I chase for sound)
(Maybe Iâ€™m meant to be alone)
