Here you are tonight, put your worries aside and listen to what I have to say.
Cause I swear that it's worth it for you to stay. "This is different than your every night," whatever owns your soul needs to go away. "Lose your mind and let your heart come out to play.

I can see it in your eyes, I can hear it your voice.
You're not ready to let it go. "We won't sleep tonight not knowing what comes tomorrow "And we won't dance tonight alone" Cause I can hear your voice screaming at the top of your lungs "We won't stand up here alone

We won't let you fall, we'll pick you right back up "We could lose it all, were pressing our luck Trust me, it's worth letting go of I'd risk it all, for a shot at my dreams "I'll stand up tall, I'm tearing at the seams These lights are bright and they take me away "You're saving my life, so please just stay"
