you spin around like a broken record it plays your name everytime the needle skips it's been that way since the last december i can't live like this anymore you're stuck inside every conversation yes i know that you're really good and gone but i'm a slave to this obsession how can i move on you're in my thoughts, in my head, in my heart, in my dreams and i wish you would stop haunting me

get out get out
i can't take it no more breathe in breathe out
cause i die a little every time i think about you
get out get out
cause im going crazy
i scream and shout
i try everything but you're still here and i can't stop missing you

ooh yeah
the way i feel everytime you're with me how you say it all without a word i keep hearing time heals everything so tell me why does it still hurt like you only just told me goodbye and i can't get you out of my mind

i can't take it no more

i hate to love you i hate to let you go

you're good at leaving but i'm no good alone

it plays your name everytime the needle skips skips skips skips skips skips skips skips skips
