life in the city, yeah thats all we've known
a concret jungles always been our home but now all that's changed, it's getting really strange five thousand miles in a hot air balloon here comes the rain but it ain't a massoon it's just you and me, chasing our destiny whatever my come, whatever we find, i've got your back, and you've got mine living like kings, that would rule, a couple of thrones, yeah that'd be cool one things for sure, we'd always have fun living the life under the sun whatever crazy things this life may bring we're living like kings water all around, three hundred sixty degrees we'll never know whats blowing in the breeze, swimming in the seas, and living in those trees brothers we've been, and brothers we'll be the only thing that changes is that we're royalty

living like kings, that would rule,
a couple of thrones, yeah that'd be cool
one things for sure, we'd always have fun
living the life under the sun whatever crazy things this island brings

we're living like kings
(we're living like kings)
