There's a look in your eyes like your not really there say you feel the pain baby so much dispair inside so you live your life just waitin by the phone but none of these gonna hide an unhappy home so you do your yoga and you try your fengshui but none of these gonna heal girl a wound that bleeds inside

so you live your life just waitin by the phone

cause everybody gets lonely and its just the way things are everybody gets lonely
but if you call out my name know that I will be right there time and time again

you only have to say the words and i'll be there

there's a way that you say that its all ok but I can tell your in hell by yourself so closed inside so you live your life just being alone

time and time again

you can call me
