Well the darkness swirls around me
And it's startin' to settle down
Here among the shadows of the evening
So I'm startin' to wonder about
The shape my soul is in
And they say only time will tell
But I say time will never take me
To that secret place I love
Where my mind is free to play with Just what I might become
If I let go of everything that I've been holdin'
And I reach out for help

Chorus

Because I, I can't get my broken heart to mend
The tears I cry, they never wash away my sin
All the strength I might find, will never heal
This soul of mine, only Love will Only His love will

So now I'm hopin' that the spirit
Will hang me out to dry
That I will listen and I'll hear him
And he will draw me to his side
And when I press my heart to His
I will find my room to breathe
With the breath that comes from heaven
And the peace we find in prayer
From a Grace that's oh so ancient
But still I know it's always here
To lift my mind above all I've been doubtin'
And move me toward belief

Chorus

Yes, and I, I will never heal
This old soul of mine, only His love will
Only Love will
Only Love will
