She'd Take Colorado if he'd take her with him Closes the door before the winter lets the cold in Wonders if her love is strong enough to make him stay She's answered by the tail lights Shining through the window pane

He said I want to see you again, but I'm stuck in Colder weather
Maybe tomorrow will be better, can I call you then
She said you're a rambling man, you ain't ever gonna change
You got a gypsy soul to blame and you were born for leaving

At a truck stop diner just outside of Lincoln,
The night as black as the coffee he was drinking,
And in the waitress eyes he sees the same old light a shining,
And thinks of Colorado and the girl he left behind there

He said I want to see you again, but I'm stuck in Colder
weather
Maybe tomorrow will be better, can I call you then
She said you're a rambling man, you ain't ever gonna
change
leaving, born for leaving

Well it's a windy road when you are in the lost and found You're a lover and I'm a runner
We go round and round and round
And I love you but I leave you I don't want you but I need you
You know it's you that calls me back in vain

Whoa, I want to see you again, but I'm stuck in Colder
weather
Cause I'm a rambling man, I ain't ever gonna change (I ain't ever gonna change) You got a gypsy soul to blame and I was born for

leaving, born for leaving

When I close my eyes I see you,

No matter where I am.

I can smell your perfume through these whispering pines.

I'm with your ghost again, it's a shame about the weather,

I know soon we'll be together, and I can't wait till then,
I can't wait till then.
