I'm causally connected to the floor
I'd hoped that you would bring me something more
I read a book about you
You have a look about you
That pushes me through every open door

Look out for me, look out for me
Keep your eyes open and you'll see

I have no mastery of time or space
But you will never put me in my place
Some subtleties I lack
You shouldn't turn your back
I tend to seek revenge, it's not my saving grace

Look out for me, look out for me
Keep your eyes open and you'll see

Look out for me, look out for me
Keep your eyes open...

Look out for me, look out for me
Keep your eyes open and you'll see
