

Zakk Wylde & Black Label Society

"January"

Visit "January" on MotoLyrics.com

The cold that burns
The tides that drift away
No more talks about tomorrow
The past is gone and all that was today
I cant forget the cold
That fell that January day

Seasons change for the rain has washed away
All the smiles and the tears
What's in between and all one's hopes and fears
I feel that January's cold shall never disappear

Empty sky the bitterness unfolds
Its hard to hold a memory
When there's nothing left to hold
Rain rain rain
The desert kills what's left inside
So hard to live when all you wanna do is die

The book is done
No more pages left to turn
No more letters left to write nothing's left for whom it may concern
January's cold shall forever live on

Visit Zakk Wylde & Black Label Society page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.