My voice changes when i talk to strangers cos everyone around me is boring and faceless don't pretend to be someone cos even a monkey can learn to dial a phone so don't you don't you
pretend to be someone now
pretend to be the one now it's time to stop this tooling around and it's time to leave this one horse town and it's time to cut these pointless ties and it's time to stop needing a high I have problems putting names to faces and this is why sometimes my voice changes and we can move to different locations but everyone around us is still boring and faceless
endless reflections of monochrome directions now I'm safe in the knowledge that knowledge is power now it's time to stop this tooling around and it's time to leave this one horse town
and it's time to stop
