"So I Dance"

Well I met you while we were sharing stares
From motorcars
And from there it was like a dream just coming true
The you asked if I like to dance and I said
"Not at all"
So you turned away to start the search for Someone new

Then an acetate Casanova sweeps you off your feet
Cause he dances like Michael J. meets Fred Astaire
And I desperately ask for one more chance
To be with you
And you smile at me while thinking "Yeah it's only fair"

So I dance
Dance with you
From now until you say you love me
Take a chance
Take a chance
That you'll only be thinking of me
So I dance

Well you live your whole life believing silly
Fairytale
Like the King of Heart's coming down to marry you
But reality's coming fast and you feel all alone
So I hope you'll let me be the one to get you thru

So I dance
Dance with you
From now until you say you love me
Take a chance
Take a chance
That you'll only be thinking of me
So I dance
Dance with you
From now until you say you love me
Take a chance
Take a chance
That you'll only be thinking of me
So I Dance

Solo

So I dance - Dance - Dance

Well you're going out ballroom dancing
Almost every night
While he's blinding you with his moves
And not a word
Then you say that if I could tango
You would have it all
So I "twist" with you and pray
I don't look too absurd

So I dance - Dance
Dance with you
From now until you say you love me
Take a chance
Take a chance
That you'll only be thinking of me
So I dance
Dance with you
From now until you say you love me
Take a chance
Take a chance
That you'll only be thinking of me
So I dance ooh
So I dance
So I dance ooh
So I dance
