You said goodbye
And the tears rolled down from my eyes
But you didn't mention her name
But I knew just the same

How could you leave me this way?
And how could you change?
How could your love fade away
While mine stays the same?

Hey, hey, hey, oh

He holds me tight
I don't love him, but I'm too weak to fight
Oh, and he feels strange and new
I just wish he was you

How could you leave me this way?
And how could you change?
How could your love fade away
While mine stays the same?

And the pain hits and blows
And the hurt never goes
See, I was so foolishly shelled by your charm
How could someone so beautiful, cause me such harm?

Tell me, how could you leave me this way?
And how could you change?
Baby, how could your love fade away
While mine, it stays the same?
And the same, and the same, and the same

Tell me, how could you leave me this way?
Boy, how could you change?
How could your love fade away
While mine stays the same?
(did you lie?)

You told me you'd care for me, care for me

You told me you love me
You told me you'd always be there for me
Did you lie?
