Far, far away from you I'm drowning in the memories the scent of your sweet perfume is all I have to make me feel you are here

No, I never really meant to say those nasty things I said I feel so lost without you by my side

You can name a song and I will sing it make a wish and I'll fulfill it can't you see it's true I live my life for you if you want a star then I will catch it take my broken heart and mend it yes, my love it's true
I live my life for you

I've been crying rivers through the night feeling all alone without you here why, did it have to be this way only you can take this pain away
