Dance with the devil and you lose your soul,
He takes your hand and he's got control..
The age of innocence has just been sold.

I went out dancin when I should'a been in bed,
Kicked off my shoes and I shook my head,
Stayed till the morning and then I fled....

You were so beautiful a long time ago,
Your pretty smile and your face it glowed...
But now your eyes they're black as coal.

They played that rock 'n' roll
They played that soul.
Bad moon risin' and I lost control.
Don't need no medicine when you've got soul...
You've got soul.
