You don't need another Cold and sad affair Just to make you feel like Your life may head somewhere The air's too thin for you to breathe It's not too late if you believe CHORUS Love can change so much It can make you cry It can make you fly Love can change so much Play on your heart strings It can break your wings Love can change so much No more use pretendin' Tell it like it is You know there must be so much More to life than this I see you starin' at the wall I wonder if you hear my call CHORUS Love can shake you - love can take you Where you've never been Love can make you - love can break you Nothing in between The air's too thin for you to breathe It's not too late if you believe
