Running into doors, unlocked memories covered by the night With no light left to see or wasted life to be When it's over it's over, it's not and you care, the same things not said to you. I fear, don't blame things you never heard before, never said but always meant Every word, Every night. Every word, Every night

(Chorus)

Spirits around us fly smoke from the fire calling us to be nothing more than we were never before Unlocking the secrets of the summer night

If we ran fast enough, would we beat destiny
I can see you now, on the beach with the sun I can see you now, in the water making choices made but never done when you smile back at summer's love and cry.....and cry..... and cry.....
The tears are showing and days are wasted not unknowing but always tasted

(Chorus)

We'll find the key faster asleep
We'll find the key yea.
We'll find the key faster asleep
We'll find the key yea.
We'll find the key faster asleep
We'll find the key yea.
Dreams are real - ending now Softly speaking no sound
