(Gary Nicholson - Al Anderson)

Here's another morning
Soon she'll be waking up
I watch her and wonder
If there's a better word for love.

So many times I've told her
It never seems enough
So I'll keep searching
For a better word for love.

Mumbling, stumbling
Wondering when I'll find a way
'Cause I know she knows
There's nothing more to say.

Tonight when I'm out walking
I'll ask the stars above
If out there somewhere
There's a better word for love.

--- Instrumental ---

Mumbling, stumbling
Wondering when I'll find a way
'Cause I know she knows
There's nothing more to say.

So here's another morning
Soon she'll be waking up
I guess I'll just hold her tight
Till there's a better word for love.

I guess I'll just hold her tight
Till there's a better word for love...
