There's a teardrop falling slowly from my eyes tonight
As I think of your two arms that used to hold me so very tight
But you're gone now and girl I'm alone and blue With just these pictures and memories of you

Pictures and memories of a love warm and true
Pictures of love we shared and the memories of you
But your pictures can't heal my chest of this hurt deep inside
Pictures and memories I feel like crying tonight

I may be crazy but you know sometimes I can almost feel your touch
Those who say I should be over you well, I guess they just never loved
As much I'd put your pictures where I couldn't see them
But I'd still see them in my mind Just like your memories, they're right here with me all the time

Pictures and memories of a love warm and true
But your pictures can't heal my chest of this hurt deep
Pictures and memories I feel like crying tonight
Pictures and memories I feel like dying tonight
