I remember walkin' through flowers
In a garden of a mem'ry I'm thinkin' of
I remember being in heaven, some other place,
Someother time, some other love.

I remember walking on silver sand
With a mid summer moon shining above
And I remember the taste of her sweet lips,
Some other place, some other time, some other love.

I remember holding her close to me
And I can picture the nights we shared alone.
When I'm dreaming, it all seems so real to me
Then I wake up and find it's all gone.

Tomorrow, I may be holding another girl,
But tonight she's not the one I'm thinkin' of Could it be my life would just be a mem'ry
Of some other place, some other time, some other
love;
Of some other place, some other time, some other
love.
Of some other place, some other time, some other
love?...
