Time, time, time, time - I let my time go by,
And now my time, all that time, has come and gone,
Bye-bye, bye-bye,
Nobody knows...nobody knows where that time goes,
A quiet little place only time knows,
A fool and his time soon parted,
Will someone take me back to where I started?

(time measures time)
(time outside of time)
Our love's outside of time without measure, (time
measures time)
A quiet little place that we treasure,
And since I can't undo what I have done, I do want to begin the day with you, (time outside of time)
What is true? What is left for me and you?

You know, I used to sit and count on my fingers,
Now I sit and count the years I've left to wander on this earth, in this time.
But a fool and his time are soon parted,
And I know I can't go back to where I started, no.

(time measures time)
A fool and his time tell me I've been fooled, (time outside of time)
Our love's outside of time without measure, (time
measures time)
A quiet little place that we treasure,
Our love's outside of time, our love's outside of time,
time, time, (time outside of time)
Spend a day with you.
