Climb aboard the glory train,
Sinner, won't you change your sinful ways?

On that awful day, awaken to find that dreadful note
you left for me,
Why? - I don't know why.

Gathered up all the tears I've cried, all of the fears and foolish pride,
Set 'em aside, decided to hide.

Climb aboard the glory train,
Sinner, won't you change your sinful ways?

Looked around, found a seat and then I sat down,
The conductor greeted me, then he kneeled, washed my feet and he said, "You're looking like you rose from the dead - find yourself rested and well fed; cradle your head awhile instead."

Aboard the glory train,
Sinner, won't you find a place to pray?
Climb aboard the glory train.

Climb aboard and feel the wheels beneath your wings,
This train is right on time, on track,
The click the clack won't take you back, take you back,
No turning back.

Climb aboard the glory train,
Sinner, won't you change your sinful ways?
Climb aboard the glory train,
Sinner, won't you find a place to pray?
