I've come a long way, but went the wrong way,
I started out right, but took a wrong turn,
No light to shine my way, no oil to light my lantern,
And on the darkest night you looked into my eyes.

I knew you knew me from the start,
You came along and captured my head,
My heart was spinning fast and hard.

I don't know what it means, but everything inside my heart you knew,
Thank you for your dreams.

I'm never wise, I'm otherwise...but smart enough to see the fire in your smile, the wisdom in your eyes,
The darkness fled the night, the night you saw the light in me,
And sitting on the windowsill, in sunlight, in the morning still, still it felt so right.

You sewed up every seam,
You made love make a brand new man of me,
Thank you for your dreams.

I've spent my life asleep,
I've dream to see the day in me and suddenly awake,
We see the life, the love that two can share - I'll take you there.

I came a long way to go the wrong way,
My life poured out like rain...rain upon the storm, Storm and stress has set the scene for what I've been.

It wasn't what it seemed,
There was more to you, and now I see,
Thank you for your dreams.

You know what it means, and at the end of all my plans and schemes was you,
Thank you for your dreams.

And now I know it's true: there's someone looking out for me and you,

Thank God for your dreams.

Now I know it's true, it's true: someone looking out,
Thankyou for your dreams.
