Save me for another day
In your basement where I'll stay Captivated, endlessly I pace remorsefully

But these times on my own
They make me feel whole These times are all you've given me to wonder what could be

I've got a problem with the way you've done me in Life's sole survivor here to save this world we're in Hesitation, aggravation,
I lose again

Save me for I've lost my way Growing displacement day by day Separated, everything that means a thing to me

Life don't treat you fair
Complain you'll get nowhere
This life is all you've given me to wonder what could be

I've got a problem with the way you've done me in Life's sole survivor here to save this world we're in Hesitation, aggravation,
I lose again

I don't care if you don't need me
I don't care if you don't believe me I'm only worried
'cause I might hit overload
I'm in a hurry but the world's in slow mode I won't feel what I feel any longer I won't deal with the pain getting stronger
I won't fear what I see in the mirror today
Until my only will is to run away

I've got a problem with the way you've done me in Life's sole survivor here to save this world we're in Hesitation, aggravation,
I lose again
