Christmas time is here again, and love is in the air Unity and understanding, friendly faces everywhere It's like I'm living in a world of peace now And there's a peace of mind I always hoped to find
But I'm just living in a world of dreams somehow There's only one thing on my mind.

And I can't seem to get it, out of my head Why christmas always bound to make me sad

Is this christmas, when you tell me that you care
And the very special feeling why, can't we spread it everywhere
And every day will be like christmas day and everyone will know
This is christmas, yea this is christmas,

But christmas time will soon be over, soon another year When unity and understanding seem to fade and dissappear
So hold on to that feeling, and let it lead the way Save it till the morning comes or keep it till your dying day,

And I just wanna get it, out of my head Cause christmas never used to make me sad

And the very special feeling why, can't we spread it
everywhere
will know
This is christmas, yea this is christmas

And the very special feeling why, can't we spread it
everywhere
And every day will be like christmas day and everyone
will know
This is christmas, yea this is christmas.
