GINNY:

The way his hair falls in his eyes makes me wonder if hell ever see through my disguise and Im under his spell everything is falling and I dont know where to land everyone knows who he is but they dont know who I am

Harry, Harry,
Why cant you see
what youre doing to me

Ive seen you conquer certain death and even when youre just standing there you take away my breath and maybe someday youll hear my song and understand that all along theres something more that Im trying to say when I say

Harry, Harry, Harry
Why cant you see
what youre doing to me
