I know you must be scared and unaware of what I might say And I know this must be weird me standing here
so young in the day
But I'm already starting to turn Already starting to turn away

I know I must be caught In between what I want and should say
And we know deep in the well of my heart I really want to stay
But I'm already starting to turn
Already starting to turn -

Hey
I don't need this
'Cause I have no faith
And you should scream 'til you're red in the face
But I won't hear most of what you say

'Cause I'm already starting to turn Already starting to turn
Already starting to turn away
