I am my fathers son,
All the Mirrors they don't lie.
I'm sick to death of looking through these eyes...
Take my teeth and spread them across the floor,
So everyone can see this smile.
"Your tickets please?"
It'll be five dollars at the door...

Help! "Nurse nurse come quick I think it's happening again."
This hole inside my chest that keeps on caving in.
All the white pills they aren't doing a damn thing,
But making me ok, with ending everything.

Hey don't you think?
Hey! Hey! Hey!
I know it's all inside my head,
I fight like every day.
It's always me vs. him.
A never ending battle,
To keep on living.
Shallow breathing,
Please get off my chest.

It's growing,
Where do I turn?
Never knowing,
Where do I turn?
Where do I turn!

Dancing death right behind the door,
The Corpses Masquerade!
That's why I say...

"Nurse nurse come quick I think it's happening again."
This hole inside my chest that keeps on caving in.
All the white pills they aren't doing a damn thing,
But making me ok, with ending everything.

Just take this bottle turn it upside down,
And drink down all the liquid until the,

Pain waters down.
Just wash the pain and pills away,
Until my breath it starts to fade.
And my hope is gone.
I've got a toe tag,
And I'm six feet deep!

I swear to God everything will be okay,
I promise my friend things will be just fine.
I swear to God!
I promise!

"Nurse nurse come quick I think it's happening again."
This hole inside my chest that keeps on caving in.
All the white pills they aren't doing a damn thing,
But making me ok, with ending every...

All the white pills they aren't...
All the white pills they aren't...
Doing a damn thing!
I still fall asleep.
