Haha you all know what it is DJ Benzie

Did you ever start a day with alarm clock ringin the birds still singin out the window its sunny but your feeling so under the weather its like flu like you don't know how to find the right mood you can feel it in your cranium open up your dome like a a football stadium trying to make sense of a feelin intense inside let it ride but it keeps comin back get you up at every sign like nobody gets it but listen to a story of two college students In hell jail pourin out emotion till its floodin up the studio tryin so hard not to fail in class cuz all dad wants is for us to excel if you can see the music we can feel it like brail but this ain't a blind dream this is our path we started out lance but we goin for the gold till were standing on the podium lettin the nonbelievers feel the salt like sodium clouride so ride whoops I meant sorry but you can sit your sorry butt down I don't think we ever wanna come down ohh man this feelin wasn't part of the plan when I decided to pursue this oo its haunting like we shadow with stalking talking watching every step when your walking whispering like hey look at the time its like a quarter past 9 go write another line cuz nobody's gonna hear you man why u even trying?

Its just a matter of time i'm feeling so patient n the sun don't shine you know Ive been waiting for slower hands if only the clocks had slower hands I know were gonna make and man I try but every morning is just a reminder that time ain't flyin with slower hands if only the clocks had slower hands I know were gonna make it its a matter of time.

you man why u even trying everyday goes by and your losing the time but were on a mission with a middy in a middle of the U.S. and its just us me and tumble and when he stumbles the opposite occurs to the bottom of the earth and were buried in the rubble then we gonna come back stronger than a titan flowin like Poseidon with a Mic as a weapon but to you its like triton when were writin and vibin and were livin by the sound waves chillin on the island

don't shine you know Ive been waiting for slower hands
