When life becomes a little too real
And the weight of this world falls heavy on my head
When i feel the pain
And agonize over failing you again
Then i come before your throne
Your grace and mercy fill my soul
Winds of deception whirl in my heart
Thoughts without discernment flood my head
Take me far from this emptiness
Forgiveness- i need forgiveness
Wash me in your blood
Lord I come to you this hour
Touch me with Your healing power
Tame this heart that goes astray
Lead me down the narrow way
Restore in me the man I am
In You and in Your mighty plan
Touch me * heal me * restore me * fill me
