Lord give me patience and give it to me now
Cause an eye for an eye makes the whole world blind
And I can't see a thing

When will we just learn to get along?
I've been doing some thinking and honesty may not be what we need
You don't have to speak your mind
We can make it if we try, cause no one has to win this time

We've taken advantage of all of our weakness
We know just what to say
And we're quick to remember and slow to forgive
It's killing us, it's killing us
