she liked him,
he turned her down,
a suicide that,
she fell through with,
and nothing changed it,
a broken heart,
that never mended,
nobody cares,
nobody ever will,
so whats the point,
in living...life to the fullest,

she stares at him,
everyday,
she writes him poems,
and he doesn't even notice,
where does time go,
when your staring at him,
when does life end,
when you know that it won't happen,

chorus:it's ending now,
it's ending here,
it ends tonight...cuz he doesn't even care,
her lifes too short,
she can't wait up anymore,
it's ending.

she walks by him,
and she gives him that gorgeous smile,
he doesn't see her,
never notice anything she does,
why can't he see,
that he is all she thinks about, but no...he turned her down,

(chorus)
