Let down and not amused
You walk in and wonder what to do when you're famous in a small room
You decided to leave with a card up your sleeve

Taking photographs of her when you're bad on a bender
Is why it took some time to remember
She was keeping you calm, you were calm all along

You bought a place outside of town
Her picture lays face down
You took a cab from the club and the ride wasn't easy
She wouldn't settle down and you were dizzy
When it started to pour, you washed up at her door

A little place outside of town, your picture lays face down

Let down and unamused
You walk in and wonder what to do when you're famous
