When the radio breaks, when the static feels right Tear the city up street by street, don't sleep keep up
all night
When the radio breaks, when the static feels right

Just the other day I went down to the end of the street, my friend
In the wrong direction and I thought my night would never end I saw it all

When the numbers read right Build the city up beat by beat, these streets stay up all night
When the lottery pays, when the numbers read right Tear the city up street by street, don't sleep, keep up
all night
When the lottery pays, when the numbers read right
Just in case you miss me, I'm leaving my bills for you to pay
I will love you dearly for breaking the bank for me each day
I love you all I love you all

When the static feels right Build the city up brick by brick these streets stay up all night
When the radio breaks, when the numbers read right Tear the city up street by street, don't sleep, keep up
all night
When the lottery pays, when the static feels right Tear the city up street by street don't sleep keep up
all night
When the radio plays, when the static feels right
