Oh... wake up, don't give a little time a little less attention, pull the cover, throw the lover overboard, can you wake up the dead?
throw a search party but it's gonna end quickly for the one in the mirror, look him straight in the face and say
"I'm already moving on and on top of my game" don't stop counting your the one to throw it away

We gotta get out, gotta get out, we gotta get out, we gotta leave this battle game unwound Whoa... later than i've ever been let em know we're coming! can you hear it? oh oh Gotta get out, we gotta get out, we gotta see this battle end somehow Whoa... a parade that will never end sing it like you mean it to encourage all the "in" falling "out"
keep repeating, repeating the anthem aloud, keep repeating, repeating the anthem out!

WE'LL FIND OUR OWN WAY BACK HOME!

back to someone we're not, is the role play playing a role in your decision making process of eliminating every single situation that could get out of hand? this is the last parade so remember that this isn't a game but can you follow me? Come on I'll play the leader...
Single file, live or die to try leading all the others.
gotta clap clap clap! keeping everyone on rhythm... we figured it out, we figured it out not a game but a swear that im addicted, gotta gotta quit playing now where are all my helpers? keep clap clap claping! cause we gotta keep it moving... theres no turning back.

One more living ensemble
One more living ensemble
One more living ensemble

One more time, give it a go
One more living ensemble
One more living ensemble
One more living ensemble
One more time, we're giving it one last go!
