Aod the winter turns bright Aod the summer into blackness
The world upside down
All time is running backwards Trees are red, sky is green future's past, earth's fluid In my bed I never sleep blood in my veins, can't get through it As the fire danced with water

Night turned white, day turned black then your past became my future
All my desires where coming back Collapsing buildings, rocks fell above perfume dripping upto the sky All coming hate abandoned love the wildred rose has never died
