Blood rivers flow
in this black land

We all know
we can't pretend

Desire of destruction
deletes any other emotion

Desire of domination
is our temptation
Save me from this world,
come, come to save me from myself,
before my anger makes my spirit die

There's still something inside...
There's still something inside...
Blinded by anger
we choose to kill

It's like a cancer
that we can't heal

Desire of destruction
deletes any other emotion

Desire of domination
is our temptation
Save me from this world,
come, come to save me from myself,
before my anger makes my spirit die

There's still something inside...
There's still something inside...
