Iâ€™ll lie awake on moon lit nights just glad to be here outside all alone the speed of life is racing light so turn out the light and unplug the phone these days seem to pass me by so Iâ€™ll try not to lose track of the time every star in the sky keeps on moving While Iâ€™m sitting here holding back all that I can if the days of this year pass much faster then the year would be over before it began time is making it perfectly clear that if I donâ€™t move on then Iâ€™ll just disappear so Iâ€™ll keep track of years that go by counting stars in the sky

when my life is getting out of hand the quiet helps to slow me down please remind me, what I am doing here stars remind me why Iâ€™m still around

the quiet helps to slow me down
