wait a minute what's happening i can't think and you are already starting to scream i was only trying to dream ok let me hear how you're saying that you're going away you can't take it anymore because i'm high every goddamn day well what can i say

i just wanted to skate along old saturn's rings tonight sorta thought you would join me with open arms like shooting stars let static horizons amaze wrapping up in flames
but now you just wanna behave so now I see that you're taking a drink and I think that maybe now i'll be making my case you just stumble all over the place and then mistake it for grace well I know that i'm doing the same it's just every single day you try to think up all the ways to complain about how everything's lame

let static horizons amaze
