sweet avail
lay me down 'cause i don't know how golden eyes appear
rolling in the fields where the barley flows in a sun drenched home
on and on you said
on and on

we're sailing to somewhere free falling after the elysian phonelines
tangled and baited
by the separatist soldiers but who isn't lost
it's just the standing around just like waiting to feel yourself without your hands like someone else

golden eyes appear on your tight walk falling dream but i don't know if a slumber floats
on and on you said

so sweet avail lay on down
'cause you don't know how
golden eyes appear
rolling in the fields
where the barley flows
my sun drenched home
on and on you said
on and on again
