A cross reminds the time I was with you A time that I could see through

Find the strength of your heart in you So that we can enflame our unity Bitterness throughout is what creates the fear but fear not you're the one that'll always hunt Queen of darkness, nymph of the night let's return forever so our flame can relight as our thongs meet my eyes weep peacefully, dreaming of a time beyond beyond here After midnight, by a full moon I will search amongst the trees for you wolves of the moonlight I will defy as I carry your leaves as if they were Mine All the dark forces surrounding me have come to lead me away from you, the way it began reality's arrival looks so sweet but left alone I lost my inner-heat
