Safe for the moment, moment and you like like you've seen a ghost well don't fret now darkest before the dawn and hours flew by as burnt daylight and we wont stop till we get caught catastrophes in arms of sleep

The ocean's electric, will you marry it? and fill it with the things you'll miss? well kill the headlights and keep her running we're waiting and waiting to come love set you going like a broken watch
