Staring at a blank piece of paper
Been trying to fill it with ink
I really want to talk to you later
But right now I really can't think

You say that you're alright
But you just seem so out of reach

I always thought forever was never honestly I've never meant some things that I've said
They say that we're doing good together
But I just want to do it my way
We held hands watching the stars
Could it ever be better?
I know I don't want to see the end
Cause I can never think of us as just friends

You move in closer
We both feel the same but I hold back
You hesitate and I wait
You want to make a move but you know you cant

Don't pretend it's not my problem
Cause you just seem so out of reach
I always thought forever was never
honestly I've never meant some things that I've said
They say that we're doing good together
But I just want to do it my way
We held hands watching the stars
Could it ever be better?
I know I don't want to see the end
Cause I can never think of us as just friends

Maybe I'm right and this is it
Or maybe I'm just wrong
Should I stay or should I quit?
That's the reason why I'm writing this song
I always thought forever was never
honestly I've never meant some things that I've said
They say that we're doing good together
But i just want to do it my way
We held hands watching the stars

Could it ever be better?
I know I don't want to see the end
Cause I can never think of us as just friends
