life is a long winding road the end is unforeseen so i'll just do as i'm told life is an empty book words yet to be filled in so i'll have to hold on through the thick and thin cause we're all here to win the roadsigns are always messed up they won't tell you where to go you don't know what life is about cause it's just for show you can't find your way out and you're sinking deep down below but sometimes you just have to read between the lines to know, woah oh

life is the basic instructions before leaving earth a movie in production of what we are worth so make your decision fast cause whatever's coming next won't last
but sometimes you just have to read between the lines
