"Sing Your Heart Out"

i close my eyes and i sing in my dreams humming along to the perfect melody and the music just can't escape me i see a light shining overhead i open my eyes but the music dies away then there's a banging on the drums and my ears go numb tell me, what has music become these days? i scream but no one hears try to find a beat but it's unclear wish the ringing in my ears will just disappear so just get up and rock to the sounds and stomp your feet hard on the ground scream it loud, shout it out cause you don't need lyrics or a beat to sing your heart out look for the words that will complete the second verse the chorus is already fading from my ears knowing that the words are right in front of me so i'm thinking of what to write i'm stuck, hanging on a single line but my thoughts cannot be heard and i just can't find the right words please someone come quick, just give me a sign

i scream but no one hears
can you feel it?
(rock to the sounds)
can you feel it?
(stomp on the ground)
i scream but no one hears
