waking up at 6AM
just to talk to me again you don't know if i'm still sleeping in staying up until midnight you're not going to bed until it's light cause you know chances like these don't often come by

it's like catching a shooting star finding someone like you so all i'd like to say to you
is thank you
asking if i'm alright worried i've been in a fight afraid that trouble comes my way even though you're sure that i'll be ok it's like swimming across the ocean finding someone so true

and i know that you're behind every shadow watching my every move you're hiding in every corner making sure that i don't lose my way so all i'd like to say...

thank you
