Blackness

Dark labyrinths of my soul

Are calling me

(I hear voices)

I'm going through my memories

And my life that passed away

Ugly things are calling me

I'm going through my suffering.

There are so many ways

Each of them says: "Come to me!"

I must choose the right one

If I fail I'll be lost!

In my memories.

So many things around me

So many weaknesses

My disgusting secrets

My strongest enemies

The weaker I am

The stronger they are

They want me back, they want me

If I fail I'll be lost.

In my memories

They call for me

And they want me back

In my memories!
