(Pat Bunch - Peggy White)

You'll just happen to be where you'll run into me
And I'll make sure to keep tonight free
Some may call it cheatin' but we call it love
But whatever they call it we can't get enough.

We're just two lonely people with two lonely hearts
We've started a love affair we never meant to start
We can't meet on purpose and we know the reason why
So meet me accidentally on purpose tonight.

--- Instrumental ---

Love leads us on and we're ready again
Pretending it's the last time each time we give in
We can't help what we're doin' when that old feelin' strikes
So meet me accidentally on purpose tonight.

We're just two lonely people with two lonely hearts
We've started a love affair we never meant to start
We can't meet on purpose and we know the reason why
So meet me accidentally on purpose tonight...
